Action Unit Detection: AU6+AU12+AU25

User

facial units:

Please describe the image, and describe the person's facial unit. (Open-Ended Question)

The image features a close-up of a person's face. The individual is smiling, which involves several

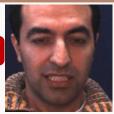

Cheek Raiser (AU6): This action is characterized by the raising of the cheek, which often accompanies smiling and can create crow's feet around the eyes. Lip Corner Puller (AU12): The corners of the lips are pulled outward, which is the primary muscle action in a smile.

Lips Part (AU25): The lips are slightly parted.

Overall, the person appears to be showing a pleasant, friendly smile, which may suggest happiness or contentment.

Action Unit Detection: AU1+AU2+AU4+AU9+AU25

User

Please describe the image, and describe the person's facial unit. (Open-Ended Question)

The image shows a person with a specific set of facial actions:

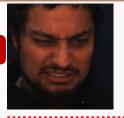

inner portions of the eyebrows. Outer Brow Raiser (AU2): This action lifts the outer parts of the eyebrows and can express surprise or curiosity.

Brow Lowerer (AU4): This action is characterized by the lowering and drawing together of the evebrows, creating a frown. Nose Wrinkler (AU9): This involves wrinkling the nose.

Lips Part (AU25): The lips are slightly parted.

Action Unit Detection: AU4+AU6+AU9+AU25

User

Please describe the image, and describe the person's facial unit. (Open-Ended Question)

In this image, the person is exhibiting a combination of facial muscle movements that convey an intense emotion:

Brow Lowerer (AU4): The evebrows are drawn together and downward, typically indicating a frown, which can express anger, worry, or concentration. Cheek Raiser (AU6): This movement, which raises the cheeks and creates a slight squint, can sometimes occur in expressions of pain or distress. Nose Wrinkler (AU9): The nose is wrinkled, which often accompanies a grimace and can signal disgust or a reaction to an unpleasant smell or taste. Lips Part (AU25): The lips are parted in a way that can be associated with expressions of anger or frustration.

